Sacred Geometry: The Building Blocks of the Universe and the Language of Light

In Lemuria, Atlantis, the ancient Mayan Curandero tradition, and modern times, sacred geometry has been used to write light into specific patterns that restructure the aura and re-pattern DNA for profound healing and transformation. Learned through “caught teachings” in the form of energy transmissions passed directly from teacher to student in an unbroken lineage of Mayan shamans that can be traced back for more than 25 generations, this highly evolved form of communication is clear and direct, free of the clouded connotations that words carry, to which the universe responds with “Yes.”

In this talk by Zabe Barnes, we’ll learn what is meant by the term “sacred geometry” and explore the divine design of the universe expressed in the form of sacred shapes and spiral movement. Highlights include:

- Sacred geometry in subatomic space and through universes
- Patterns that repeat throughout nature in gemstones, plants, and more
- The Vitruvian Man drawing by Leonardo da Vinci
- Mayan sacred geometry grid sequences
- Sacred geometry in your aura.

Zabe will explain what the “caught teachings” are—a fast track to expanded awareness—and how they are given, and then give one for the sacred geometries of psychic opening, psychic stabilization, psychic integration, and how to know which energy you need.

After the intermission, she will give each audience member a shell and talk about sacred spirals—how to work with the shell; the spiral technique without the shell; and using the shell spiral for general healing and for breaking through perceived limitation.

A spontaneous three-day out-of-body journey in 1997 changed Zabe’s life, activating the flow of light, healing, and sacred geometry in her and through her. In 2000 she discovered Mayan shamanism and the sacred knowledge that shed light on that experience. She received in-depth shamanic training during a seven-year apprenticeship with a Mayan Curandero master and holder of an ancient Mayan healing lineage. She is a master healing teacher, gifted channel, modern-day shaman, and transformation catalyst. Based in Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas, she works with clients, students, and teachers worldwide in person, by phone, and by Skype. Zabe is the creator of the All Can Heal Sacred Spirals System and author of The Pearlescent Compass: A Practical Guide for Inner Transformation and Soul Path Alignment.
