Secrets of the Mystics in All Religions

The teachings of the various religions are, in essence, philosophies on the anatomy and physiology of the human soul and how it interacts with the higher consciousness, referred to as “God,” “Allah,” “The Divine,” or in other terms. Gandhi said, “After a long study and experience I have come to these conclusions: that all religions are true, all religions have some error in them, all religions are almost as dear to me as my own Hinduism. My veneration for other faiths is the same as for my own faith.”

Lee Lawrence provides an understanding of the greater whole, or common truths, within the mysticism of all faiths that will integrate religions into one body of knowledge without discounting any of them. He’ll outline the various aspects of souls and how they function, and describe how prayer, meditation, fasting, forgiveness, spiritual trance states, and other spiritual practices relate to growth of the soul for seekers on all paths, whether Christian, Buddhist, Jewish, Muslim, agnostic, atheist, or others.

Far from merely an academic exercise, this talk is designed to help us figure out who we are and to feel good about it; to accept and love all parts of ourselves, without judgment; to remove the obstacles to loving ourselves. The value systems we learn from our families of origin may be good, bad, or indifferent, but as long as they are externally rather than internally held, we are not free. Lee will touch on a range of topics that may include these, or others, depending on the interests of the audience:

- Why some disciplines are common to all faiths
- Why Sufi mystics spin (Whirling Dervishes)
- Why yoga works
- Law of Attraction: how thoughts manifest or how, when they don’t, they may not be in your highest interest
- Attachment vs. non-attachment
- How breath work enhances all disciplines.

Lee’s insights evolved through his ability to read souls and his using it as a research tool. He combines his intuitive gifts with knowledge from studying religion, psychology, and neuroscience to bridge the gap between science and spirituality. His 20 years’ experience reading souls has revealed a deep understanding of the anatomy and physiology of the human psyche. He perceives human consciousness and stored memories as physical, tangible objects; as part of his presentation, he will demonstrate—with audience volunteers—how these memories are anchored in and manifest the human physical body.

An experienced and enthusiastic presenter, Lee’s ability to read the stored memories in people’s soul fields has amazed audiences internationally. He is on the board of directors of the Academy of Spirituality and Paranormal Studies, Inc. (ASPSI), and spoke at its conference in 2010; he is an internationally known medical and psychological intuitive, and offers private soul readings to clients who have attended his workshops. He was interviewed for the 2011 DVD Kundalini, a documentary film featuring this ancient knowledge and the people who have unlocked its energetic force. He lives with his wife in Pennsylvania and in Chapel Hill. Lee last spoke for SFF in February 2012 and has participated in our last two Psychic & Healing Fair fund raising events.
