

Living from Your Soul Purpose

November 2003

Lightworks

Issue 182

“The question is not, ‘What is the role of your soul in your life?’ The question is, ‘What is the role of your life in your soul?’ You are an energy tool of your soul...that part of you that existed before you were born, and will continue to exist when you die.” – Gary Zukav

Before we are born into a lifetime on Earth, each soul creates a blueprint for the lifetime, which we call our soul purpose. The soul purpose is a set of goals that the soul hopes to accomplish through its experience on Earth. Some goals are personal, such as overcoming a fear of commitment or opening the heart to a deeper level of compassion – and some are global, such as helping others to find peace in their hearts or finding a cure for disease. While each of us has a unique list of goals, we also agree to some goals that are shared with others who will be traveling on Earth at the same time. In this way, ideas from Spirit reach critical mass and are born into being on Earth.

Why do some people marry at age 20 and others wait until their 40s or 50s to meet their soulmates? What is the most rewarding work you could do in this life? How do you meet the right friends and teachers? How can you best express the unique song of your soul in this lifetime?

Debbie will share information on soul purpose that she has received from the angels and other light beings who guide her through life. She will discuss ways to get in touch with your soul, learn about your soul purpose, and look at your life from your soul's point of view.

Debbie Prevost has spent this entire lifetime trying to live from her soul purpose, with help from angels and other light beings. In 1994, she founded Hands On Soul, a healing practice through which she channels messages from God and His sacred messengers on soul purpose and life lessons, teaches classes about angels, meditation, soul purpose, and spiritual ethics, and offers energy healings for body and soul with angelic assistance. She's also written many articles for Innerchange magazine (www.innerchangemag.com), on subjects such as prayer, energy healing, and faith.

On Nov. 15, Debbie will lead a workshop, Living from Your Soul Purpose, where she will discuss in more detail what it means to live from your soul purpose. She'll also lead a series of guided meditations during which you can make contact with your soul, learn about your soul's goals for this lifetime and how much you've accomplished so far, discover the main focus for your soul right now, and see how your soul would tell your life story to this point. This workshop is not sponsored by SFF, so for details please contact Debbie directly at 919-468-1019.

Meditation

Ra El Remez will lead the meditations at the November 6 SFF meeting. The early meditation will weave chanting, journey and prayer to thank God for the gift of Life and enter Ananda Brahma, the Bliss of Creation. Please be on time for the early meditation, which begins at 6:30 p.m. in the Vaughan Wing.

Ra El Remez is a visionary artist, sound and energy healer, writer and spiritual pilgrim to sacred sites around the world, including Egypt, Peru and Tibet, where she made a trek around Mount Kailash at over 18,000 feet. An emissary of compassion, Ra El is a channel for higher vibrations of bliss and beauty, having come to mastery through the transmutation and absolution of near-death experience. She has studied sound healing and inner high alchemy extensively with Tom Kenyon and is a ceremonial facilitator of the Ghandarva, a chanting ceremony of singing the sacred names of God. She is also a Reiki Master and currently practicing to be a certified Soul Recognition Facilitator and LaHo-Chi Practitioner. In October she is leading a group pilgrimage called "Isis Ra Elohim in Zion," a journey to Utah's dazzling Zion, Bryce and Escalante, to anchor the Light Codes of New Earth into stones and bones. For private healing sessions and workshops, her paintings and sacred soul portraits, contact Ra El at 919-846-8737 or omrael@aol.com.
